BETTER FARM HOMES IN SOUTH

Beautifying and improving the farm homes is the newest phase of home demonstration work in the South, yet more than 1,500 farm-houses were built in the South last year according to plans advised by the Home Club agents; 2,736 were remodeled, 2,677 had lighting systems installed, 19,270 had kitchens improved and made easier to do work in, 26,811 labor-saving devices were made or purchased, and 29,666 front yards were beautified. When extension work with the women was started 10 years ago, it aimed first to lighten women's work and to lift it out of the realm of drudgery and to aid in food problems. As these problems were being solved the questions of clothing, home conveniences, increased poultry and dairy production, sanitary improvements, food composition, food values, and practical arrangements and furnishing of the kitchen were brought up by the women. This led to demands for practical plans for the whole house and for information as to its best location, drainage, water supply, lighting devices, inside arrangement, and decoration.

RATS EATING CORN IN FIELD

Ed Love, who farms a lot of land south of Mead, was in town Tuesday exhibiting the shucks and cobs of what had been some mighty good ears of this year's corn but they were all entirely devoid of corn. Ed says the rats have eaten it and that they have damaged one piece of his prairie corn at least $300 or $400. The rodents peel back the shuck and eat every last kernel of the soft corn off of the cob.

M'INTOSH DISCUSSES FACTS

Senator J. T. McIntosh, Candidate for Re-Election to State Senate, makes the following statement relative to the Federal Aid and what the Legislature has done in the aid of road building in the various counties of the State.

In 1916 the Federal Government passed its first act making an appropriation to aid the States of the Union in road construction. Under this act the State of Oklahoma was allotted the following sums:

In 1916, $115,139.00.
In 1917, $230,278.00.
In 1918, $346,489.34.
In 1919, $461,222.20.
In 1920, $575,619.58.

In 1919 the Federal Government made its second appropriation to aid the States of the Union in road construction and from that appropriation Oklahoma was allotted the following sums:

In 1919, $1,153,055.49.
In 1920, $1,728,583.24.
In 1921, $1,726,858.75.

These are the only sums that have ever been appropriated by Congress in aid of road construction in the States of the Union.

The legislature in 1917 made an appropriation in the sum of $690,834 to meet the federal aid made available for the first three years under the federal appropriation. The legislature also finding that the appropriation made for the support and maintenance of the State government had not reached the maximum limit of three and one-half mills on the dollar fixed by the Constitution, therefore, appropriated as an additional aid to the counties of the State the sum of $1,000,000 for the year 1918 and $1,000,000 for the year 1919. These sums were to be used by the counties in building good roads; provided, however, the counties would raise a like sum to match the State aid.

The legislature in 1915 passed a law requiring the State to make an annual levy of one-fourth of one mill on all the taxable property of the State to raise funds to aid the various counties in the State in road construction. This money was made available upon condition that the counties raise a like sum in building roads. The legislature has always gone its full limit in making appropriations for road construction and to aid the counties of the State in building good roads.

I am a member of the committees on good roads and highways in the Senate and have supported all appropriations made by the State in aiding in the construction of good roads.

The legislature in 1919, fearing that the $50,000,000 bond issue submitted to the people for their approval might fail of passage, passed a joint resolution authorizing the various counties of the State to raise funds to match federal aid, and under this resolution there has been allotted to Bryan county to aid in road construction the sum of $450,000. It will be seen from the above figures that when the federal aid is divided between the seventy-two counties of the State, the federal aid will amount to very little in the way of building permanent roads in the State and the legislature has no authority whatever to increase or diminish the federal aid.
